A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

On Thursday evening Miss Feuchtmeyer was the recipient of a surprise party. The occasion was the 18th anniversary of Miss Feuchtmeyer's birth. She was thoroughly taken by surprise and it took a little while before she could sufficiently recover to appreciate the fact that a large number of her school friends had perpetrated a most perfectly managed surprise party. The evening was very pleasantly passed in various games and music. Pinning the ribbon on the donkey and spelling matches were had and prizes given to the successful parties. At 10 o'clock the children, to the strains of Tannhauser, were marched into the dining room, where a beautifully decorated table, was loaded with all the delicacies the country affords. WESTERN SCHOOL OF ORATORY AND ELUCUTION.

To the Editor of the Eagle.

The article in last Sunday's EAGLE entitled "We All Have Something to Do," is heartily re-echoed by every one of its thoughtful readers. It is just such newspaper work as this that starts the citizens to earnest endeavor towards improving the town, and makes them appreciative of progress in whatever line.

Quoting "schools, colleges, etc., should find encouragement and a home in the city," we can say that the Eagle finds, too, until Wichita can boast of her institutions of higher education. The past week closed the fall term of the Western School of Oratory and Elucution, which, allowing the results to speak for themselves, has been most successful. Although only in its second year of complete organization, the school is making its influence felt; while professional speakers generally, and ministers and lawyers especially are taking advantage of it to improve themselves in oratory, which, no public speaker can be a success.

Mr. Hoos is an educator fully up to the times and impels his students to successful effort through his methodical and strong endeavor. By comparison of the work done in this school with schools of Boston and Philadelphia, Wichita suffers nothing, and in its practical results comes out ahead.

YESTERDAY'S BALL GAME.

The first football game of the series between the students of the Wichita University and the students of the Southwestern Business college, was played yesterday and was very interesting to lovers of that popular game. The ball was put in play by the business college team with the Princeton V, and was advanced twenty yards; Quarterback Ross, after a scrimmage, obtained the ball and carried it across the goal making a goal and scoring six for the business college team.

The ball was then taken to the center, where, after several scrimmages, it was carried by the university team over their goal, making a goal and scoring six. The ball was taken to the center, where, by hard playing, another goal was scored by the university team. First half of game ended 12 to 6 in favor of the university team.

Second half started by university team, with Princeton V. After hard fighting three more touchdowns were made by the university team, half-back, Fouts making two of them. The score of the game was 38 to 6 in favor of the University team. The University team had excellent backing in the persons of the half-backs, full-back and quarter-back. The Business College team did not play very good back, but showed a good deal of strength in their rush line. The University team also had a splendid rush line.

Humphrey of the Business College team was disabled at the end of the first half, and his place was taken by Burgess. St. Clair's place in the University team was taken by Sapp, who did excellent playing. Taken all in all, the teams were very well matched, and most interesting game is expected on the coming Thanksgiving day.

AMUSEMENTS.

P. S. Gilmore's vocal artists on his present tour are singers of more than ordinary merit and are received with flattering demonstrations that are quite unusual. The soprano and alto are two sisters, who made their debut the present season in New York with such remarkable success that Mr. Gilmore at once engaged them for his jubilee at Manhattan Beach and afterward re-engaged them for his entire concert tour. They are Misses Emilie and Emma Schmechel, daughters of a German musician, and have been trained by the foremost teachers of this country and Europe. The tenor is Monsieur Clodio, the remarkable tenor brought to America by Mapleton with his great opera company. Clodio was also the tenor of Patti's opera company, and is one of the few great tenors of the world. The basso is Mr. Edward J. O'Mahony, a great favorite with Gilmore's audiences. At the Crawford Grand this afternoon and evening.
